Sky Lanterns and Helium Balloons

Report of Councillor J Kenyon, Portfolio Holder for Climate Change

Purpose of the Report

- To alert Members of the Council to the risks posed by sky lanterns and helium filled balloons.
- To recommend that North East Derbyshire District Council and Rykneld Homes Ltd introduce a charter to ban the release of sky lanterns and helium balloons on any land or property owned by the Council.

1 Report Details

- 1.1 The release of sky lanterns or helium balloons might look pretty, but they are a serious danger to animals and the countryside.
- 1.2 Sky lanterns and helium balloons are usually used in Britain to mark special celebrations such as weddings, parties and New Year, but many people are not aware of the dangers they can cause.
- 1.3 Essentially, a small hot air balloon made of paper, with an opening at the bottom where a candle is suspended, sky lanterns, or Chinese lanterns as they're also known, can float for miles before they fall to the ground, causing a danger to animals and a fire hazard.
- 1.4 Helium filled balloons can travel similar distances and also present a danger to animals and litter the environment.
- 1.5 The risks presented include: -
 - 1.5.1 Litter Nuisance: Farmers and other landowners have to clear up the remnants of sky lanterns and balloons from their fields. Whilst 'biodegradable' lanterns made from Bamboo are available, they still take months or years to degrade.
 - 1.5.2 Fire: Once a sky lantern is lit, nobody knows exactly where it will land. Fields of standing crops, hay and straw stacks, farm buildings housing animals, thatched roofs plus lots more are all at a significant risk of being set alight.

1.5.3 Animals and Livestock: Sky Lanterns can cause suffering or even kill animals and livestock. Balloons present a choking hazard. Not just by fire, sky lantern and balloon debris can cause immense stress and injury. Some of the key dangers are: -

- Animals eating lantern debris which can cause tears or punctures to internal organs leading to a potentially life-threatening situation
- Animals getting splinters in their skin which may cause infection
- Animals becoming trapped or tangled in debris
- Frames of lanterns can contaminate crops which are then unknowingly fed to animals.

1.5.4 False alarms: Sky lanterns pose a significant danger to aviation traffic such as planes and helicopters. There are concerns that lanterns can be drawn into aircraft engines and can delay take-off and landing. In addition, lanterns drifting across a night sky have also been mistaken by the public and coast guards for marine distress signals.

1.6 A number of other councils and organisations have backed the campaign and banned the release of sky lanterns and helium balloons on council owned land. Councils taking action include: -

- Lincoln City Council
- Newark & Sherwood District Council
- Nottinghamshire County Council
- Rushcliffe Borough Council
- South Kesteven District Council
- West Lindsey District Council

1.7 Other organisations, including the Peak District National Park, the Countryside Alliance and the RSPCA are calling for bans.

2 Conclusions and Reasons for Recommendation

2.1 Sky lanterns and helium balloon releases pose a significant risk of harm to animals and the environment.

2.2 There are many fun alternatives to balloon and sky lantern releases such as tree planting, flag flying, jam jar lights, or even releasing giant bubbles. The RSPCA website has more suggestions.

(<https://www.rspca.org.uk/adviceandwelfare/litter/balloon-and-sky-lantern-alternatives>).

3 Consultation and Equality Impact

3.1 There are no impacts on equality arising from this report, although it is noted that the impact of fires or damage caused by sky lanterns and helium balloons can have a disproportionate impact on vulnerable people in society.

4 Alternative Options and Reasons for Rejection

- 4.1 The alternative option would be to take no action in response to these concerns and issues.
- 4.2 This option has been rejected as it is recommended the Council and Rykneld Homes takes action and sets a positive example with regard to the release of sky lanterns and helium balloons.

5 Implications

5.1 Finance and Risk Implications

- 5.1.1 None

5.2 Legal Implications including Data Protection

- 5.2.1 None

5.3 Human Resources Implications

- 5.3.1 None

6 Recommendations

- 6.1 The Council, together with Rykneld Homes Ltd, adopts and promotes a charter as follows: -

North East Derbyshire District Council and Rykneld Homes Ltd has banned the release of sky lanterns and balloons on any land or property owned by the Council.

We are committed to encouraging businesses, communities, landowners and individuals to switch to alternative ways of celebrating and commemorating events.

North East Derbyshire District Council and Rykneld Homes Ltd pledges to: -

- Promote the restriction of the release of all types of helium-filled balloon and sky lantern on property and land owned by the Council. This includes those that are made from bamboo or claim to be biodegradable.*
- Engage with businesses, communities, landowners, schools and individuals to encourage them to sign up to this charter.*
- Raise awareness of safer and more environmentally friendly alternatives that people can celebrate with, through promotion and campaigns.*
