Members discussed the Joint ICT Service and enquired as to what the current primary focus of the service was. They heard that the current focus of the service was utilising the new Microsoft 365 licensing for improvements in security and service. Members heard that the total number of incidents and service requests had remained stable throughout the period but that the total number of outstanding calls had remained high over the past year. In order to help address the backlog of calls and to provide additional resources, two fixed term temporary posts had been created.

Joint Committee were informed that over the six month period, BDC and DDDC on average exceeded the SLA on 80% of incidents and service requests being resolved within the fixed time. NEDDC was under the SLA at an average of 79%.

Members learned that throughout the period there had been a total of 57 Priority Two outages and zero Priority One outages.

Joint Committee discussed the report at length. In particular they discussed issues with the websites, the potential for Committee to undertake an innovative and horizon scanning role for the service, and the legal requirements of the Council in relation to IT. Members also enquired about recruitment and heard that the Joint Service had a number of vacant posts.

It was agreed that the website would be reported on in future as a key issue.

Members considered that it would be useful to have information on what each
